Dogs Ten Commandments

1. Calling a Halt, Wait Command

Tells a dog to stop

2. Sit, Sit/Stay, Down/Sit

Sitting Dogs Don't Fight! One of the most critical commands a dog needs to know! It puts the dog into a physically submissive position. If the dog "refuses" to go down, your dog is confused about what their role is supposed to be with respect to you Sit and Down can be taught with or without treats

3. Okay

Releases your dog from Sit / Stay or Down / Stay

4. Come

Tells your dog to come to you when you call them

5.Let's Go

Tells your dog it's time to walk on leash

6.COME

Use it or Lose it command. Success is more likely when used frequently. Without it you can never trust your dog or ensure their safety when not on a leash!

7. Off

Stops your dog from jumping on you, other people or objects. That's basic good manners!

8. Out: Drop

Command that tells dog to immediately drop whatever is in their mouth. Could be LIFESAVING!

9. Quiet

Tells dog to stop barking. Barking is normal behavior, when the dog alerts you praise them and then demand quiet.

10. No Bite

Useful for dealing with teething puppies or breeds that are forever trying to find something to chew.

The Key to successful dog behavior is directing it, not correcting it. The commands show your dog what they need to do to live happily ever after with you!
